

CAREGIVERS & PROVIDERS INVITED

Help us write a play

We are writing and producing a play that explores the question, “What does a community of care look like?” Please join us in a story circle so your experience can help inform this new play.

Each of the story circles below has a particular focus, but anyone who offers any kind of care (from professional to family to volunteer) is welcome at any story circle.

Wed, Aug 23, 6:30-8:30 pm	Social service All job titles, all settings
Thur, Aug 31, 6:30-8:30 pm	Educational settings teachers, paras, counselors, principals, all ages
Tue, Sep 5, 6:30-8:30 pm	Volunteers Any kind of volunteer work that offers help/care to others
Thur, Sep 7, 6:30-8:30 pm	Residential care Institutional and group homes; memory, senior, recovery, behavioral health, disability, transition, etc.
Tue, Sep 12, 6:30-8:30 pm	Mental health work Practitioners of all titles, support staff, crisis lines, etc.
Thur, Sep 14, 6:30-8:30 pm	Medical workers and first responders Any job title, any setting
Sat, Sep 16, 10am-12pm	Any and all kinds of people offering care

All story circles take place at:

Wonderlust Productions studio
293 Como Ave #212, St. Paul, MN 55013

RSVP HERE (not necessary, but very helpful)

What will happen at the story circle?

- We will ask some open-ended questions, focusing on your experience as a care provider, giving each person a chance to tell a story from their experience.
- Share as much or as little as you want. If you don't feel like sharing you can just listen.
- Nobody's stories or experiences will be used in the play directly like a documentary – they'll be blended together into a fictional story.

About us

Wonderlust Productions is a ten-year-old, professional theater ensemble that makes new plays based on the stories of real people. For all our projects, we start by picking a community of people here in Minnesota with stories that are relevant to all of us but unknown to many of us. We gather stories from people in that community, and blend them together into a fictional play. We share drafts of the play in public readings for feedback, and invite community members to perform in the play alongside professional performers when we produce it.

Questions? Email info@wlproductions.org or call 651-212-5075.